Adjourn Trolley Hearing to June

Public Service Commission Gets Evidence on Which Trolley Company Asks Permission to Abandon Part of Colonial Division.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, May 25. (Special).—Hearing was held by the Public Service Commission Tuesday on the petition of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company for consent to abandon the part of its route known as the Colonial line, except for that part running to Kingston Point. Frank Irvine of Ithaca, former Public Service Commissioner, and G. B. Tebow, secretary and general manager of the company, represented the trolley company, and Eugene B. Carey represented James Jenkins, corporation counsel.

After certain proof had been submitted by the company an adjournment was taken to June 5 at 10 a. m. at Albany. At that time the city will have an opportunity to cross-examine the company's manager and to introduce any testimony of its own.

On behalf of the company it was contended that the Colonial lines were operating at a large loss, and that they constituted a severe drain on the resources of the company. It was claimed that the increases in fare allowed in the last few years had failed of their purpose in that they had not brought about the expected revenues. Judge Irvine stated that the company felt that the abandonment proceeding was the only solution of the problem.

Figures were submitted by Mr. Tebow showing that the actual operating loss of the Colonial line for the first four months of this year was $6,600, without making deductions for taxes, fixed charges, etc., whereas the Kingston City division had a surplus of $14,000. After making deductions the deficit of the Colonial line was put at $16,000 and the surplus of the Kingston City line at $7,000. If the abandonment is approved it is estimated that revenues of the consolidated lines for the year will be $161,891 and operating expenses $112,484.

The company stated that it had an application pending before the common council to operate a bus line to serve the territory now served by the Colonial line and a large additional part of the city.

Refuses Permits For Curb Pumps

Three requests for permission to install gas tanks and pumps were received and rejected by the board of public works Tuesday evening. The rejection was based on the grounds that the courts have held that the city has no right to grant permission to install curb pumps. The requests that were rejected were from Henry Matthews, 14-12 Abert street; Norman Lown, 432 Broadway; and John B. Rafferty, 337 Delaware avenue.

Fire Alarm Breaks Up Klan Parade

Massachusetts Town Aroused When Six False Alarms Are Ringed—Klansmen Abandon Parade Plans—Two Minor Clashes Reported.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Clinton, Mass., May 27.—Sounding of six false alarms of fire in various sections of the city early today, following the Ku Klux Klan meeting in Berlin and the mobilizing of the Clinton police, created great excitement in the town.

There were two clashes between Klansmen and anti-Klansmen but no injuries were reported. The disturbance was the latest of a series of Klan and anti-Klan troubles in Worcester county.

As the Klan meeting in Brewer Field, Berlin, conducted with the burning of a cross, broke up, word was telephoned to Chief of Police Michael Kitterage that the Klansmen were going to parade through Clinton.

Special police, on duty at a carnival, were summoned and placed at different points throughout the town.

In a short time Clinton, a town of 14,000 persons, was aroused by the ringing of the fire alarms. One after another six alarms were sounded.

The ringing of the bells brought hundreds of persons to the street and there were gatherings near the various fire boxes.

The Klan parade, announced to the police, failed to appear but two or three Klan automobiles came into town.

The windshield on one car was damaged by a stone at the corner of Water and Walnut street.

Wild reports were circulated about the disturbances. One report from official circles had it that a Klan parade was attacked and scores injured, but investigation showed this report to be untrue.

While the banquet was being served the orchestra rendered some of the songs popular during the days of the World War and there was spirited singing on the part of the boys.

Vice President Albert Salzman presided as toastmaster and called upon Peter Keresman, Edward J. Wortman, Eugene Cornwell, Martin Mooney, Gordon Van Kleek and Henry Munch for a few remarks, and they spoke briefly, recalling some of the events of "Over There."

The members of F-51, the majority of whom were present at the reunion, are: Ray Adams, Oliver M. B. P. W. Acts on Many Matters in Busy Session

Sewers, Street Lights, Electric Signs and Other Matters Considered Tuesday—Permission Granted for Coming Social Events.

The board of public works met in regular monthly session Tuesday evening and adjourned at midnight after transacting considerable business.

A petition was received from property owners on Cage street asking that the street be graded and top-dressed. Referred to the street committee and superintendent.

Property owners of Reynolds street petitioned for a sewer in that street extending from Stanley street to Wynkoop Place. Referred to the superintendent and city engineer to report at the next meeting.

Marius street and Josephine avenue property owners sent in a communication stating that a sewer would be laid in those streets at the expense of the property owners and that when it was completed it would be turned over to the city. The board decided that the work should be done under the supervision of the city engineer and the corporation counsel was directed to prepare an agreement to be signed by the board and the property owners covering the proposal.

Field Day June 27.
The Sunday schools of the First Dutch Church and the Fair Street Reformed Church asked permission to use Forsyth Park on June 27 for field day sports. Permission was granted.

Ryan's Proposal.
William D. Ryan offered to sell the city crushed stone at $2.50 per yard at the crusher provided the city crusher ceased operations. The communication was laid on the table.

Unused Gas Posts.
The Kingston Gas & Electric Company sent in a communication relative to the unused gas posts in the city. There are eleven located on various streets. Five of them are used by the government for mail boxes. The posts are the property of the city but the electric company agreed to remove them if the city would pay the expense of resurfacing the streets where the posts are removed.

The communication was filed.

Damages His Business.
David Firestone of 219 Wilbur avenue called attention to the brook in Wilbur. He said the dam on the Barnum property had caved in and as a result his sluiceway was blocked and he was unable to operate the machinery used in his grist mill. Referred to the superintendent with power.

More New Lights.
The lighting committee submitted a report regarding proposed changes in city lights in certain sections of the city including the new parking grounds in the rear of the R-G-R store on North Front street, Hasbrouck Park, Canfield Park and Forsyth Park. These proposed lights would cost about $500 a year. The report was accepted. The electric company cannot install new lights unless they first receive an order from the board of public works, which explains the delay in lighting the new parking grounds in the rear of the R-G-R store.

Cordis Hose Company asked permission to use the block on Abrayn street, between Delaware avenue and Walnut street, for a block on June 10. Granted.

A Street Fair.
The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Kingston City Hospital asked permission to use a block on Pine Grove avenue for a street fair some time this summer. Granted. The dates for holding the street fair were not fixed.

Not in Peanut Business.
Edward Davis wrote asking permission to install two peanut vending machines in Forsyth Park. He offered to pay the city twenty cents an every dollar taken in by the machines. The board decided it did not care to embark in the peanut business and rejected the proposition.

More Street Signs.
Applications for permission to install electric signs in front of their places of business were received from Louis Simonty, 536 Broadway; C. C. Little, 6 Hurley avenue; Max Lenthal at Rondout post office; A. E. Thomas, 235 Wall street; Van-Roes Hotel Crown street; Harry R. Meert, 412 Washington avenue; Liberty Restaurant, Wall street. All were referred to Superintendent Van Keren with power.

An application from the Highways Display Company to install a sign at 555 Broadway was referred to the city engineer and superintendent.

Dead to Emerson Street.
The board accepted a deed to Emerson street from the Crosby Kelly estate, subject to the approval of the corporation counsel.

To Erect Warehouse.
The application of Fred Phillips to erect a warehouse and private garage on Progress street was granted.

Ryan's Request Denied.
Martin Ryan of 41 Pine Grove avenue applied for permission to enlarge his store at that address. The request was refused as it was in the residential section.

Washington, May 27.—The interstate commerce commission today ordered the railroads to issue interchangeable scrip coupon tickets in denominations of $15, $30, and $50. To be sold at the standard rate of passenger fare for one way trips. The order becomes effective July 15, 1925.

Pen avenue, Flatbush avenue and Foxhall avenue, and stated he had run levels and ascertained that the sewer could be built provided property owners did not install tubs and other fixtures in the cellars as the depth of the sewer would only take care of anything from the first floor up.

In regard to the petition for the sewer in the Boulevard, he reported there were not enough signatures on the petition and it will be referred back to the signers to obtain the necessary numbers. The city engineer at the next meeting will give an estimate of the cost of the proposed sewer from South Wall street to the foot of the hill, and also from South Wall street for the entire distance to be sewered.

A Proposed Playground.
Commissioner Chandler, to whom had been referred the matter of acquiring the use of the property at Works and Hunter streets for a playground, stated he had taken the matter with Edward Orskendall and had been informed that the property was owned by the Cornell estate and was valued at $10,000. The matter was held open.

Violating City Ordinance.
Corporation Counsel Jenkins called the attention of the board to the fact that there had been several claims filed against the city for injuries alleged to have been sustained in falls on icy sidewalks and said that where home leaders supplied on the sidewalks the property owners should be compelled to connect the leaders with the sewer as required by city ordinance. The board directed Superintendent Van Keren to take the matter up with the property owners and see that they complied with the ordinance.

After adding bills the board then adjourned subject to the call of the chair.

May Put Kirby In an Asylum

Held for Grand Jury, Charged With Maine Murder—Quizzed About Other Cases—Once Inmate of Institution for Feeble Minded.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Winthrop, Maine, May 27.—As state highway police, guns strapped to thighs, stood guard, Harry A. Kirby, alleged murderer and attacker of women, was brought to local court in town hall today.

Before a crowd of silent spectators, and in a setting reminiscent of pioneer days in the west, Kirby, pale and trembling, pleaded not guilty to the killing of Miss Aida Hayward, the shooting of her aunt, Mrs. Emma M. Towns, and firing on his cottage.

Judge Herbert E. Foster held the defendant without bail for the grand jury and Kirby was promptly rushed back to Augusta jail, from whence he came, by automobile.

At Augusta Kirby today was quizzed by Grant Williams, of the missing persons department of the New York police department.

Kirby was questioned regarding the death of a girl at a feeble-minded institution near Nyack, N. Y., where he was once confined, and the mysterious disappearance of ten other girls from the institution. Burglaries in New York and Maine were also discussed at the grilling.

As for the Maine murder, Kirby still sticks to his original story, that he found the body of Miss Hayward and that he concealed it in the cottage he occupied to protect somebody else.

Kirby said he had a revolver with him at the lake and that he threw it into the water. Search of the lake bottom was made today in an effort to locate the revolver.

As arrangements for arraigning Kirby went forward, the belief in official circles grew that Kirby would never stand trial. The fact that he was once an inmate of a feeble minded institution may keep him from the courts and put him in an insane asylum.

Paul Rogerrio Is Rearrested

Charge of Abduction Was Dismissed Here—Dutchess Authorities Hold Him For Charge of Carrying Concealed Weapons.

No bill of indictment was found against Paul Rogerrio by the grand jury when it handed up its report on Tuesday afternoon and he was discharged from custody. Deputy Sheriff Seth Joccyn, however, was waiting for Rogerrio with a warrant issued in Dutchess county and he was immediately rearrested and held for the Dutchess county authorities who took him to Poughkeepsie Tuesday night. Rogerrio was held in the jail here on a charge of abduction.

It being alleged that he took one Lillian Lits and another girl from Highland to an up-state city. No indictment was found by the Ulster county grand jury on the abduction charge but a similar charge may be lodged against him in Dutchess county. The Poughkeepsie authorities took him back to Poughkeepsie where he is wanted on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Rogerrio, a former Poughkeepsie barber, was arrested at Rhinebeck on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and was admitted to bail. Later the story of the alleged abduction became known and his bondsman surrendered him to the Dutchess county sheriff. When he was served with a warrant charging him with abduction he was turned over to the custody of Sheriff Wells and brought here to jail where he has since been.

Lillian Lits who was held as a witness, was also taken to Dutchess county Tuesday evening by the authorities.

Slightly Hurt In Auto Mishap

A Cadillac sedan was towed to the Ulster Garage, Fair street, late Tuesday afternoon, considerably damaged, the result of an accident that happened earlier in the day. The Cadillac, the property of Gustave Zeiss of Long Island City, a color-printer, in charge of a colored chauffeur, after coming off the north end of the overhead bridge that crosses the railroad tracks at West Park, struck a depression in the highway where the concrete joins the old bound macadam road, and the car bounced against a guard fence at the side of the highway. The force of the impact with the post was so great one of the wheels of the sedan was knocked off and glass in the car body broken.

In the car was Mr. Zeiss, his wife and a small boy. Mr. Zeiss was cut about the chin by the flying glass and the boy slightly hurt, the woman escaping injuries as did the chauffeur. The party was brought to Kingston and registered at the Hotel Sturgesant.

Award Contracts For American Legion Building

General, Plumbing and Heating Contracts Go to Lowest Bidders—Every Cent Contributed Will Be Used for the Memorial.

Bids were opened at the office of the post adjutant on Saturday, May 23rd, for the construction of the American Legion Memorial Building, and contracts were given to the lowest bidders as follows:

General contract (including Anaconda copper roofing): To Michael-Campbell Co. $17,472
Plumbing and Heating: To L. F. Bannon Co. 3,533

All bids which were submitted are on file at the office of the adjutant, 53 John street, and are open for inspection by any one desiring so to inspect.

Bids have been asked for the electrical and painting work, and they will be in within two weeks.

Additional items of expense to be considered in the estimated cost of $35,000 are the cost of the site, excavation, memorial tablet, grading and sidewalks, furniture and fixtures, construction supervision and expenses of administration. These items, it is estimated, will bring the entire cost of the project to $35,000.

Every dollar contributed or pledged in the campaign now closing to secure this memorial will buy 100 cents worth of material. The expenses of the campaign, which were small, were met by the American Legion in such a manner that not one cent of the money donated by citizens was used for expenses, and not one cent from the treasury of Kingston Post. Every dollar counted.

KING OF RUN RUNNERS CAPTURED AFTER CHASE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rochester, N. Y., May 27.—Captain Ben Kerr of Toronto, "king of the lake run runners," and eight men and an armed girl were captured early today following a chase of a 42 foot craft by a coast guard cutter.

Eight shots were fired from the government boat before Kerr brought his boat to a halt and surrendered.

Only eight cases of Canadian ale were found on board but hundreds of cases had been thrown overboard by the runners when they attempted to escape.

Mac Davis, 25, of Webster, N. Y., dressed as a man, was arrested on shore by customs men who took a revolver from her pocket. She was one of the unloading detail, according to the officers.

On board the run craft with Captain Kerr were John Elliott and John Clark of Toronto. The six other men were captured near a cottage which the runners have been using to store the ale cargo.

A cordon of men was thrown about the cottage and search warrants were to be made out today for a raid.

BANDITS ISOLATE TOWN BEFORE ROBBING BANK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Kentland, Ind., May 27.—The entire town of Brook, Ind., near here was held at bay by a gang of ten bandits this morning while they smashed open the doors of the Brook State Bank, opened the vault with a blast of nitroglycerine which shook the town, and escaped.

Before beginning their marauding the bandits cut all telephones and telephone wires and then raised the telephone company's office, putting the lone operator to flight after he had attempted to arouse the village with an electric fire signal.

Brook has about 1,200 inhabitants.

THE PROBLEM OF PROBLEMS.

The great "spring offensive" against "rum row" was of course in mind when Senator Watson publicly stated that the Coolidge Administration had decided to make a "tremendous effort" to enforce prohibition. That such an effort is needed appears to be generally admitted in official circles. According to Senator King, speaking before the Coughlin investigating committee, "as the situation now stands the law is not being enforced" and "it seems generally conceded that there has been a general breakdown of the law." This view of the situation is amply supported by the report of the United States Department of Commerce, which is described as "the first wholly unprejudiced estimate" of the country's consumption of liquor under prohibition.

No wonder a "tremendous effort" to stop all this is called for, regardless of the staggering millions in taxes it will cost, in addition to the costs already piled up. In making the effort the Federal power is of course doing its plain duty under the law. But the question occurring to the reflecting observer is, what is to be done if the tremendous effort fails, or only in a small measure succeeds as heretofore? Will the situation be frankly faced and official consideration of some other solution of the problem be permitted? Nothing is more self-evident than that this is the problem of problems now before our government, and people—the sweeping of imported liquor from the seas and from the international borders, and putting an end to domestic manufacture a hundred times greater in volume. Can it be done, and if not, what then?

AMERICAN FILMS ABROAD.

It has been indignantly asked, in the House of Lords why 95 per cent of the films shown in Great Britain, and 99 per cent in the British Empire, are of American origin, the question being followed by the demand that if Great Britain must have rubbish on the screen let it be English rubbish. This complete domination of American films is the more remarkable because the "rubbish" with the widest popular appeal in England has to do with red-blooded folk in our great open spaces of the West. And yet the British Empire has wider open spaces and much wilder life than has been found in our West for a generation or more. It is not for lack of rich and romantic material ready to hand that British producers can not compete with our makers of pioneer Western stuff, for there is plenty of it to be found in British India, Africa, Australia and Canada.

Nor is it for lack of literary ability to seize upon opportunity and make the most of it. In originality and dramatic intensity the British novel and spoken drama, until recent times have kept far ahead of our own. And there is no good reason why a country with such high-grade acting in the spoken drama should not develop equally excellent acting on the screen. It would appear that the chief handicap of the British film producer is undeveloped methods of photography. In the actual picturing the British and all foreign films seem to lack the relative perfection of American motion-picture photography.

"BOOTLEGGED" ALIENS.

Secretary Davis again returns to the subject of "bootlegged" immigrants, of whom he says there are a million in the United States. He does not mention the basis or method of arriving at his estimate, but it is easy to believe that he does not exaggerate in the view of the possibilities of smuggling from the sea at remote points of our coast lines and across the Canadian and Mexican borders. The difficulties of identifying illegal entrants are very serious. At Detroit alone, where 400,000 ferry passengers cross the border every hour, and where "on the average" an examining officer can not devote more than a few seconds of his time to each passenger. As for the task of effectively policing the long Canadian and Mexican border lines, it presents a truly baffling problem. There is the difficulty of watching our coast lines, particularly the Florida bays.

of Labor advocates registration of aliens as the best check on smuggling. In his opinion only in this way will it be possible to discover the illegal entrants. But this, again, presents serious practical difficulties. Moreover, many native citizens, as well as immigrants regardless of the manner of their entry, are opposed to this, taking the ground that it is too much like oppressive European police systems. It is obvious that in the smuggled immigrants we have a very serious problem that still awaits solution.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M. D.

FOOD AND AGE.

As you have watched a baby enjoying its bottle of milk, you have wondered how such a small quantity of this liquid substance, nearly ninety per cent water, was able to not only keep the child nourished, but also furnish material for growth.

And yet as a matter of fact the child is getting more food in proportion to its size than you are. Putting the amount of nourishment for every pound of weight the body requires at about 100 parts at earliest infancy. It requires 67 at 2 years, 62 at 5 years, 54 at 10 years, 45 at 14 years and in the adult 37.

These figures are worth considering, because it shows that during the growing period, youngsters should eat more in proportion to their weight, than an adult.

In these days of athletics for men and women it is not unusual to see the young man or young woman maintain their appetite for food. This is as it should be, because food is necessary where there is work or play.

However, the real danger point is just a little later in life, between 25 and 30, when men and women give up some of the active work or play, and settle down into their regular positions in life.

What happens? Well, they immediately begin to put on a little weight. With some this is rather a pleasant surprise, because they have always been just a little underweight.

With others it doesn't seem to bother them any, and they go blissfully on their way, acquiring five to seven pounds each year, until at the age of 30 they are nearly twenty pounds overweight.

They quite rightly attribute the increase in weight to the fact that they haven't been taking regular exercise.

Accordingly they get busy, at least some of them do, and begin to take up some form of exercise, and gradually get their weight within a reasonable distance of the normal.

The careless ones continue to acquire weight, until at the age of 40 they have a "set" to their figure that signifies middle age.

Now as has been said before there is only one way you can acquire or retain weight, and that is by eating.

What is my point? That you should remember that the older you become, the less food you should eat. That the baby and the growing child need lots of food, but the adult in proportion to his weight needs just about one-third as much as the baby.

Of course, if you have to work hard physically, or are willing to take some exercise, you are certainly justified in eating plenty of food. You are entitled to do so.

High Prices Are Again Blamed

Marriage Decline in New England Laid to High Prices—Fewer Marriages Than Elsewhere in U. S.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Boston, May 27.—New England has fewer marriages than elsewhere in the United States.

Marriages in this district declined 9.7 per cent since 1922. Meanwhile, there has been a 25.3 per cent increase in New England divorces.

Explaining the situation, Edward W. McGlenen, registrar of births and marriages, said:

"There are various reasons for this drop in the marriage rates. First, of course, the high prices for everything. Rents alone are enough to keep people from marrying. In the days gone by the general rule was to pay one week's salary for one month's rent, which left three-quarters of the month's salary, approximately, for food, clothes and luxuries.

"I've noticed that the majority of those who do apply for marriage licenses are couples of whom the wife is planning to go on working after the wedding. I don't say that I approve of married women working, but I have to admit that with a lot of young families today it is a case of have to.

"The unemployment situation is still pretty acute today and is a marriage deterrent.

"In the entire country the marriage rate for every 1,000 persons is 15.1, according to the latest statistics; and in New England it is 11.9.

"Divorces are increasing for some what the same reason that marriages are decreasing. It is easier financially for two to get along separately than together. Family life doesn't thrive on cramped economies, and domestic difficulties are all out of proportion.

"As for the marriage rate, one interesting phase is the stopping of immigration by means of the quota law. Immigrants are the marrying sort. They come here to set themselves up in business, and, being more domestic, fundamentally, than our Americans, they at the same time set up housekeeping.

"But, above all, remember, it is the money situation, that has had the most to do with the decline of marriage in New England. And it can only be readjustment of the cost of things that can relieve the condition of all."

Today We Celebrate

VANDERBILTS AND GOULDS.

The first of the Vanderbilts to achieve success on the road to fortune was Cornelius, who was born on Staten Island 131 years ago today, while the founder of another American financial dynasty, Jay Gould, was born in Roxbury, N. Y., eighty-nine years ago today. The founder of the house of Vanderbilt commenced his business career at sixteen, by buying a boat to carry produce to New York. While he was engaged in the boating business his wife aided by keeping a hotel in New Brunswick, N. J. By thrift, hard work he got together $10,000 and engaged in building and operating steamboats on the Hudson and Long Island Sound. He invested his savings in railroads and rapidly amassed a fortune. He established the great N. Y. Central and gained control of other lines, and at his death in 1877 he left a fortune of $100,000,000. Jay Gould spent his youth toiling on his father's farm and attending the village school. Afterwards becoming a surveyor, he accumulated several thousand dollars he began to make speculation in railway stocks, and at his death in 1872 he left a fortune of $72,000,000.

CALVINISM.

The doctrine of unconditional election and reprobation was first formulated in a theological system by John Calvin, born on this date in the year 1509. The chief doctrines or "five points" of the Calvinistic system are: Predestination, particular redemption, total depravity, irresistible grace, and the certain perseverance of the saints. Calvin, an austere, gloomy and inflexible character, was born in Picardy, France, in 1509, and was fifty-five years of age when he died. The greater part of his life was spent in Switzerland. The theological system he worked out is still the accepted faith of the greater part of the Presbyterians and of millions aligned with other denominations, both in Europe and North America.

EMILIA BRAMBATI.

Or Bergamo, was the wife of Ezechiel Solza, distinguished for her poetic talent and for her eloquence. She became the pleader for the life of her brother, condemned to death by the Tribunal of Venice, and drew tears from the eyes of all the bystanders. Some of her poems still remain.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

(Once by This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

IMPORTANT STEPS IN CHILD WELFARE

"The opening recently of two new American Legion billets for orphans of the World War and the appointment of Miss Emma C. Puschner, formerly agent of the St. Louis board of children's guardians, as field secretary for the child welfare division, mark important forward steps in the American Legion's national child welfare program," declared Mark T. McKee, national chairman of the Legion's child welfare committee. One cottage was opened at Otter Lake, Mich., and one at Clarksville, N. J.

The new cottage at Otter Lake is the fourth to be opened there, three cottages having previously been opened. The fourth cottage was built to preclude all possibility of crowding at the Otter Lake billet. Twenty-six children can be accommodated in the new cottage. Twelve children were waiting to go into it when it was opened.

The funds to build the new cottage were subscribed by the American Legion and its auxiliary, department of Michigan. That department also established the other cottages at Otter Lake, with the exception of the one built by the national body of the auxiliary from dimes contributed by its members.

The Clarksville home is a colonial mansion surrounded by two acres of beautiful grounds. It was purchased with the proceeds of the annual sale of poppies on Memorial day. Legion posts and auxiliary units of the four counties of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Salem are responsible for this billet. Ownership of the property will be vested in a local board but the administration of the billet will be assumed by the national child welfare committee of the American Legion.

"Increasing activity in child welfare work brought home to Legion officials the advisability of securing additional personnel to direct and supervise the work. To that end Miss Puschner was appointed field secretary of the Legion's child welfare committee," said Mr. McKee. "She will assist in setting up the Legion's child welfare field service."

Miss Puschner has been actively engaged in the work of the board of children's guardians at St. Louis since its creation in 1912. She has advanced from the position of secretary to the superintendent of the former St. Louis industrial school to agent of the board, doing the work of executive secretary of the board and director of the placing out department. She has handled several hundred adoptions in the juvenile court and has been legal representative of the board in all courts. She holds the degree of Bachelor of Laws and is a member of the American Association of Social Workers, of the National Conference of Social Workers and of various other professional bodies.

Miss Puschner is a member of the auxiliary of Quentin Roosevelt post of the American Legion at St. Louis.

Legion Men to Serve in Times of Emergencies

Formation of "Alamo Post Patrol of the American Legion," an organization of picked men trained for service in times of emergency and disaster, was announced by John K. Weber, commander of the American Legion post at San Antonio, Texas.

Commander Weber, commenting on the patrol, said: "The public has been educated to expect prompt and efficient service from the American Legion in emergencies. When the call came for aid during the 1921 flood, the Legion was among the first to be called on and first to respond. Our patrol will be fitted and capable of handling the most unusual circumstances."

"Posts of the Legion have always done individual relief work in time of disaster, or have co-operated with other agencies in giving aid and relief. The latest instance of the Legion's activity in emergencies was their work done for the sufferers in the tornado-swept area of Illinois and Indiana. Thousands of refugees saved their valuables because the Legionnaires patrolled against looters. Thousands of victims were clothed and others were fed through the agency of the Legion."

N. Y. Post Commander Is Twenty-Two Years Old

Bernard E. Whitley, commander of Betowski Van Demark post of the American Legion, Waverly, N. Y., is said to be the youngest post commander in the country. He is twenty-two years old.

Commander Whitley was only sixteen years old when he enlisted in the navy during the World War. One of his comrades in the post said of the young commander: "Whitley is the bravest commander we have ever had; he'll keep things moving from now on. We'll raise our quota of the Legion's $100,000 endowment fund for disabled veterans and orphans with plenty to spare when that big commission of ours gets working on it."

One Way to Reduce

A rather robust woman recently asked a doctor what she should do to reduce. "Take a certain kind of exercise," said he. "What kind do you recommend?" she asked. "Push yourself away from the table three times a day," replied the doctor.—Tupelo Capital.

Queer Jungle Calls of Dahomey Natives

When the barefooted black men travel in their own country they move as silently as specters. If they are not talking, or singing, or shrilly calling to each other, one does not hear them approach unless it be by the low rumble of their bodies against the leaves.

On such occasions, a file of them walking through the bushes suggests a party of shadows based on some African expeditions.

"O-Kee! O-Kee! O-Kee!"

That is the jungle greeting of the Dahomey black men. As soon as two travelers catch sight of each other in the distance they begin to shout this call. As they approach they lower their voices until the "O-Kee" sinks to a mere murmur as they pass; then it rises again louder and louder as they separate until lost in the distance.

"O-Kee! O-Kee! O-Kee!"
A greeting filled with fear. Doubtless it means something like this: "I know where you are! I know where you are!"—Henri de Kerdille in L'Echo de Paris.

Believed Black Cats Inhabited by Satan

There is no "good luck" portent more generally believed in than that connected with black cats. If one enters the house it must not be driven away. If we meet one in the street, the moon is good, and if it should come and rub itself against us, our luck is right in. Probably we sleep and dream it—to make quite certain. If that is your custom, do you know that you are perpetrating the Evil One? Your ancestors in the Middle Ages hated black cats. They regarded them as being inhabited by Satan himself, or, at any rate, by one of his evil spirits. So when they stroked a black cat it was not to bring good luck but to ward off ill-luck. By plucking the cat they turned the devil from his wicked purposes. If you condemn the notion

Repairing St. Paul's

Most of St. Paul's cathedral in London, England, the choir, transepts and dome, has been closed to the public. There are accommodations for some 1,000 worshippers in the space remaining open to the public. The temporary wooden screen which will cut off the nave from the rest of the building is being constructed as rapidly as possible. It will be placed at the western end of the main piers which support the dome, leaving the space occupied by three and a half bays available for public worship. A temporary altar and choir stalls will be fitted within this screen. No definite estimate of the time required for repairing the piers has yet been made by the experts. It is believed, however, that the cathedral will not be fully reopened for at least two years.

Dogs Without Tails

A curious breed of dogs is owned by Enara and Kankokino, Laplanders. These dogs are born without tails, which is considered a very fortunate characteristic, in that the wolves cannot have that member to catch hold of in a chase. The wolves prey upon the Lapps' reindeer, which the dogs are trained to guard, with the result of frequent free-for-all fights. The tailless dog was not always thus, but in the result of the docking process practiced upon generations of ancestors until now he is born without a tail.

Common Sign Language

Travelers in the interior of South America, although knowing little of the language of the Indians, claim that an astonishing amount of communication may be held by means of the sign language. The Chiriguano Indians of Brazil, for instance, while speaking each a different language, have a more or less common language of signs.

"Keep the Velvet"

Socony Motor Oil literally cushions all the moving parts of the motor in a film of velvet-like consistency. More than this, it seals the combustion chamber so effectively that the maximum power of the explosive mixture is delivered in full, and, in addition, resists to a high degree excessive engine temperatures. All these factors make for longer motor life, greater power, minimum repair bills.

Fill up on Socony Motor Oil. Note the difference in costs—the cost of actual operation and the lessened repair bills. In fact, any way you wish to reckon it, use Socony and "Keep the Velvet!" Insist upon Socony Motor Oil: resist cheap and spurious imitations.

STATUES OF LAVA ON EASTER ISLAND

Modern Scientists at Loss to Account for Cult.

Easter Island, in the South Pacific, which recently was reported to have vanished in a submarine convulsion, still waves its fringed palms in air. Capt. Alfred King sends to Illustratione Zeitsung, Berlin, an account of some of its peculiarities.

"In former times," the captain writes, "the tribes and clans on the island lived in constant warfare with each other. The captives were eaten. Many human bones still lie about in the caves of the island. The original Kanakas had a very queer cult, for which they built gigantic statues of lava. The biggest of these statues is that of the thunder god. It is twenty-one meters long and seven meters wide and weighs twenty tons. Whether these stone monuments were idols or the statues of famous island personalities cannot be ascertained.

"Some of the monuments carry a mysterious hieroglyphic script. There are about 555 of these giants, the tokens of former civilization. In 1833 the island was discovered by Peru slave dealers, who caught the majority of the Kanakas and took them by force to the Peruvian guano islands, where they died of epidemics.

"The island people own wild chickens and pigs. The chickens fly like pheasants and stay at night in the trees. The owners identify their chickens by cuts on the loes. Wildcats are the only game on Easter Island. Daytime is determined by the position of the sun. Tobacco plants grow on the island. The natives use banana leaves as cigarette paper, they always carry a provision of banana leaves at their belt.

"I could never quite find out how marital conditions were on the island. It seemed to me that marriage among members of the same household was prohibited. A violation of this law was punished by putting both offenders to death. Otherwise there was complete prenuptial freedom. Cautious fathers shut their daughters up."

Have to Practice Shooting

The reason Argentines rank among the best shots in the world as shown in various international rifle contests in past years, is that marksmanship is obligatory upon every male citizen of Argentina between the ages of eighteen and forty-five. This is a part of the Argentine system of compulsory military instruction. Not all citizens have to serve in the army, its ranks being recruited by lot, but those chosen may reduce their one-year term of service by three-fourths if they take the marksmanship course. Those not chosen are obliged to take the course anyway. Statistics recently issued by the ministry of war show that during last year 44,000 citizens took lessons at the 120 rifle ranges in the country, and shot 4,500,000 cartridges.

Task for Pianist

Cortot, the celebrated pianist, is fond of a good joke on himself. On radio, the Paris periodical reports this. Dining with friends one night, he was persuaded at the end of the meal to play a rhapsody, which he did with good grace and brilliance.

Pale with emotion, a young woman, who had been fluttering for a time on her chair suddenly stood up and said: "How divinely you play, maître, but may I ask you a question?"

"Ask it, I beg you."
"Is a quaver played quickly?"
"Good heavens, I should say it is."
"And a semiquaver?"
"Much more so."
"Oh, maître," said the lady beseechingly, "do play one for me."

Dugouts for Dwellings

In Katrak, a small fishing village on the shore of the North sea, the housing shortage is so intense that many inhabitants are obliged to live in trenches constructed during the World war to defend the Dutch coast against surprise attack. The attention of walkers on the dunes is aroused by chimneys sticking out of the trench tops. In dark, narrow dugouts large families are sometimes quartered. Small tables on which the machine guns were placed in wartime, chairs and bed beds are the only furniture. The lampshades have been transformed into windows. Water and light are lacking. Lodgers profit by the curiosity of passers-by by exhibiting their "bunk" for a small fee.

NATIONAL CAMPAIGN ON TO PREVENT DROWNINGS

Safety Council Plans Comprehensive Effort to Reduce the Annual Toll of Lives.

Chicago—"Help to prevent drownings" That is the slogan which will be broadcast throughout the country this summer by the National Safety Council in a comprehensive effort to reduce the toll of lives in accidental drownings.

Approximately 6,500 persons were drowned in continental United States last year the council estimates. Modern educational methods and publicity on the subject have reduced the annual toll from 8,500, the number drowned in 1911. A large part of the credit for this reduction is due the American Red Cross, which has promoted life-saving activities of various sorts in communities large and small.

This summer the National Safety Council will add the organized effort of 60 large cities having a total population in excess of 30,000,000 which have affiliated community safety councils.

The safety councils of these cities will extend the campaign into the public and parochial schools, into the homes and into the industries. Swimming posters will be displayed the country over in an effort to interest people in learning how to swim. The prone-pressure method of resuscitation, recognized as the most efficient system of restoring breathing in the apparently drowned will be taught along with ways and means of rescuing helpless persons from lakes and rivers.

Thirty of the country's largest radio stations will broadcast talks on the prevention of drownings.

"There is no doubt but that the ability to swim is of first importance if the drownings in this country are to be reduced," says W. F. Cameron, managing director of the council. "Everyone, young and old, should get out this summer and learn how. Especially should children be taught because swimming becomes harder to learn as the person grows older. Besides, swimming is wonderful exercise and develops the muscles and tissues of the body into a suppleness not accomplished by most other forms of recreation."

Sound Filter Will Be Useful in Many Ways

An open tube through which only certain sounds can pass has been devised by Dr. G. W. Stewart of the University of Iowa, based on his newly discovered principle that sound waves can be made to interfere with each other, causing only certain tones to be transmitted. He calls the device an acoustic filter. Since it is of a fundamental nature, it is believed to have possibilities in connection with phonographs, loud speakers, telephones, automobile mufflers and like appliances. The photograph shows Professor Stewart with the acoustic filter.

Greatest Lighthouse in World Is Started

Paris—What is stated to be the most powerful lighthouse in the world was inaugurated on the summit of Mont Afrique in Burundi for the purpose of facilitating night trips on the Paris-Matellies air line.

The lighthouse has eight lights, with a total of 1,000,000 candlepower. If atmospheric conditions are favorable its powerful rays will be seen from Lille, Brussels, Frankfurt and Milan.

Despite the heavy expense incurred for building the lighthouse, which cost the government over $100,000, it is expected that four more will be put up during the year in order to enable the air lines to run day and night services throughout the country.

Arab Fashion on Links

Paris—"Classed" leather coats, edged and lined with wool, are to be the fashion for women's wear on the golf links and tennis courts this spring. The "dope" comes from the stylishly dressed ladies of some Arab clubs, and the designers' order book is being kept by Montmartre.

President Must Use Own Salary

Allowance of Government for White House Maintenance Insufficient to Cover Entertainment Expenses of Chief Executive.

While the president's salary is only $75,000 and his traveling and entertainment allowance $25,000, the government spends over $300,000 a year maintaining the country's First Family, an article in this week's Liberty explains. The extra expense comes in maintaining the White House, grounds and domestic and office staffs.

"President Coolidge receives annually seventy-five thousand dollars, with an allowance of twenty-five thousand dollars a year for traveling expenses and official entertainment," the account states. "He is the only government official not required to sign a pay roll. His salary check of six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars a month is brought to the White House by a special messenger from the treasury department."

"The allowance of twenty-five thousand dollars remains in the treasury subject to order. His signature is authority for the White House disbursing officer to pay, up to the total amount specified, expenses incident to trips. In checks on the treasury against the presidential allowance. Similarly, the expenses of strictly official entertainments at the White House are estimated and the statement signed by the president, who then is reimbursed by a treasury check for the amount, which is deducted from the allowance for the year."

"The president does not, of course, defray from his own salary the upkeep of the Executive Mansion and the grounds surrounding it. Nor does he pay the domestic staff, the expenses of the executive office, nor the White House police force of thirty-three men, without whose eternal vigilance nothing portable within the grounds could be saved from souvenir hunters. For these expenses congress appropriates about three hundred thousand dollars a year."

"There is also a presidential allowance of three thousand dollars for printing and binding, this being the only allowance at the disposal of the president in addition to the twenty-five thousand dollars for traveling and official entertainment. "The entertainment allowance does not include the constant hospitality extended by the president and his wife, who rarely sit down, even at breakfast, without having guests at the table with them. For this the president pays, even as you and I, out of his personal salary. It is also an expense that would not devolve upon any couple in private life, and a social burden that no man on a salary of seventy-five thousand dollars would, for a moment, attempt to carry."

Held as Tomb of Rachel

The tomb of Rachel is a Mohammedan wely, or tomb, marking the burial place of Rachel, the wife of the patriarch, Jacob. It is situated about five miles north of Bethlehem. Jewish, Christian and Mohammedan tradition agree in identifying this spot with the tomb of Rachel, the wife of Jacob.

"And Rachel died, and was buried in the way to Ephrath, which is Bethlehem. And Jacob set a pillar upon her grave; that is in the pillar of Rachel's grave unto this day."—Genesis 35: 19-20.—Kansas City Star.

Airplane Building Time

How long does it take to build an airplane? In automobile construction production men know the time it takes to turn out every little detail. Aircraft construction is still largely experimental and records of labor and cost are scarce. Therefore, it is very interesting to read in Aviation the record of time spent in building a small three-place, metal-hull flying boat with a 70-horse-power Anzani engine by the Aeromarine company. It took 2,375 hours to design it and 6,390 hours to build it, the hull being responsible for more than a third of the entire effort.

RICHES DRIVE MODEST MAN INTO SECLUSION

Oil Twice Causes Aged Confederate Veteran to Move Away in Search of Peace.

El Dorado, Ark.—Oil, the liquid gold of fiction, is a fugitive among minerals and more often than not eludes man, but not "Uncle Nap" Brown. "Uncle Nap" is the fugitive. Twice oil has overwhelmed him with added riches and now he has what he hopes is a haven, a farm in Texas, where oil has not been struck, yet.

Napoleon Bonaparte Brown, eighty years old, a veteran of the Confederacy, worth $500,000, and owner of nine automobiles, has been trying desperately to escape the "flowing gold" by moving from farm to farm.

First "Uncle Nap," as he is affectionately known, moved from the old homestead in the South oil field. Twenty wells, with as many shrieking and pumping engines, drove him to seek peace and quiet on another farm four miles east of this city. Then hardly had a crop been planted when the fields, intended to bloom with corn and cotton, became the scene of another rush. Soon 17 wells and 17 pumping engines set up their roar and rush.

Then he chose Gaines county, Texas, near the Seminole reservation, as a haven. Here with 800 acres of land on which oil has not been struck, as yet, he gets away from "civilization," as he whimsically calls that which striking oil brings to people.

Boy Held as Chattel

Released by Judge

Detroit, Mich.—Ruling that a human being could not, under the law, be held as chattel or security for the payment of a bill, Judge Vincent M. Brennan in the Circuit court restored three-year-old Edward Thomas Lambert to his mother, Mrs. Mattie May Lambert. Edward early last fall became a $5-a-week boarder at the home of Patrolman Fred Janneck, 183 Cherry street, Wyandotte.

"My husband did not want him," she told Drotshagen when she went to appeal to recover her son. "But my husband left me last November. I could not keep up the payments. Easter Sunday I owed $50."

She went Easter Sunday to the Janneck home to plead for the child. She would pay the $50 when she could. The Jannecks refused to surrender the boy.

Polosker, who is a practicing attorney, volunteered to act as counsel for her and instituted habeas corpus proceedings.

The law is the law and a mother is a mother. Judge Brennan told Mrs. Lambert to pay Edward's board bill as soon as she could.

"Make your husband pay it if you can find him," he said.

Girl Babies Sell at

Seattle, Wash.—One of the cheapest commodities in certain parts of China is girl babies and many are left at Catholic missions of Jacobow. Kiangsi province, the parents demanding an payment 3 cents in American money. Declared Rev. Daniel McGillicuddy, Catholic missionary from Kanchow, province of Kiangsi, who just arrived here on a steamship from Shanghai.

"In addition to paying parents of Chinese girl babies 3 cents, the garments the babies are wrapped in are often asked to be returned," said Father McGillicuddy.

The missionary said missions were protected from fighting Chinese factions by paying small sums to the leaders.

Performance

Across the continent—coast to coast—then from Canada to Mexico—4664.5 miles—without adjusting brakes!

There's the greatest test and the greatest proof of the excellence of Rickenbacker 4-wheel brakes.

"Cannon Ball Baker" in his sensational record-smashing drives did it.

"I adjusted my brakes at the end of 4664.5 miles," says the famous driver, "and not because they needed it even then, but I was going after that other record—El Paso to Los Angeles (908.5 miles) which he made in 21 hours, 23 minutes) and I didn't want to take any chances."

"A quarter turn of the adjusting nut was all they needed."

Just think!—that 4664.5 miles was equal to at least 20,000 miles of average driving.

At least 20,000! For in his coast to coast rush (3,106.5 miles in 71 hours, 33 minutes—actual driving time) "Cannon Ball" had to make thousands of quick decelerations and hundreds of emergency stops.

Remember, he had low pressure, balloon tires. Only 25 pounds of air in them—to protect himself from the road shocks.

Couldn't make right angle turns and hair pin bends at full speed.

He says those wonderful brakes really made these records possible.

Because he could, in a few feet, slow down from 70 miles per hour to 25 and take each turn in safety. Then with his 65 horse power motor, get away again as quickly—

But—that's putting grief on brakes.

The route down the Pacific Coast—Vancouver, B. C., to Tia Juana, Mexico—1,558 miles, crossed three mountain ranges—roads up and down—with acute switch backs and steep grades.

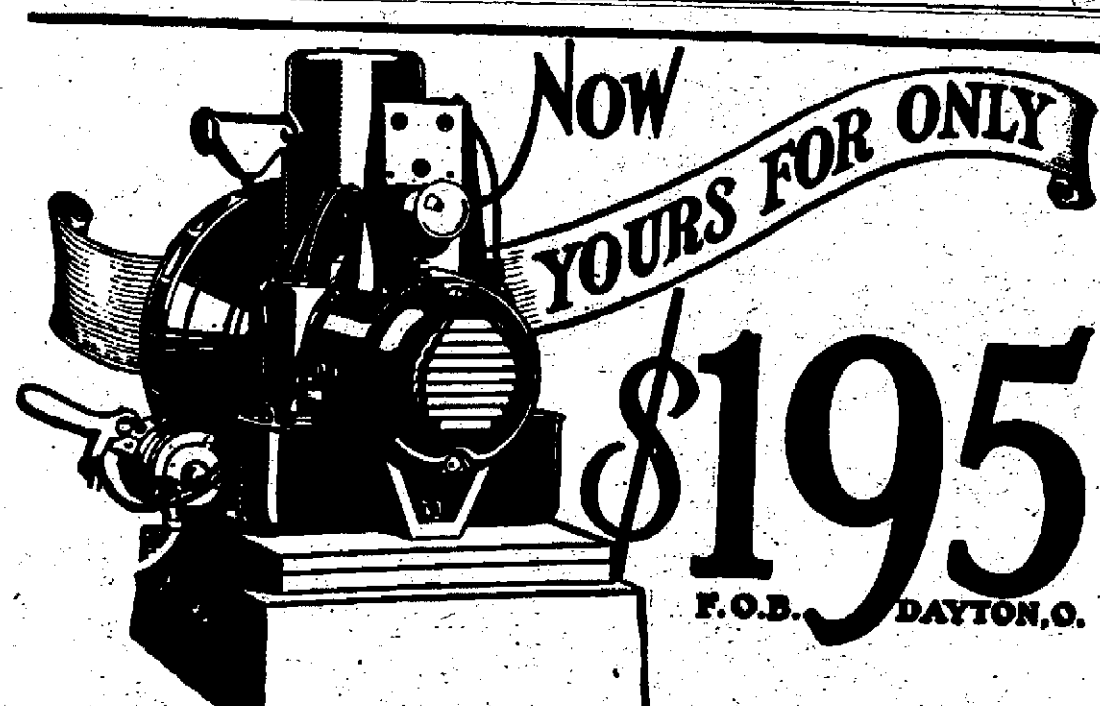

Just a series of alternate accelerations and brakes. And yet these brakes were not adjusted till the end of 4664.5 miles—of such terrific driving.

If you have not sensed the smoothness and efficiency of these 4-wheel brakes you really cannot know what perfect braking qualities are.

Drive this Rickenbacker Six yourself—it will be a revelation to you.

SOME SCARF ARRANGEMENTS.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

It is not given to all of us to look our best with our throats swathed in scarfs. The long graceful type, not tied about the throat, is a flattering touch which the short-necked woman may adopt, but these chic arrangements caught by an artist at the French races are the prerogative of the Annie Lauries, whose swanlike necks can stand binding.

Cravattes and Scarfs Sketched At Paris Races.

A prominent actress, noted at the races, wears her knitted plaid scarf smartly while her friend chooses a mannish fore-in-hand tie in diagonal stripes.

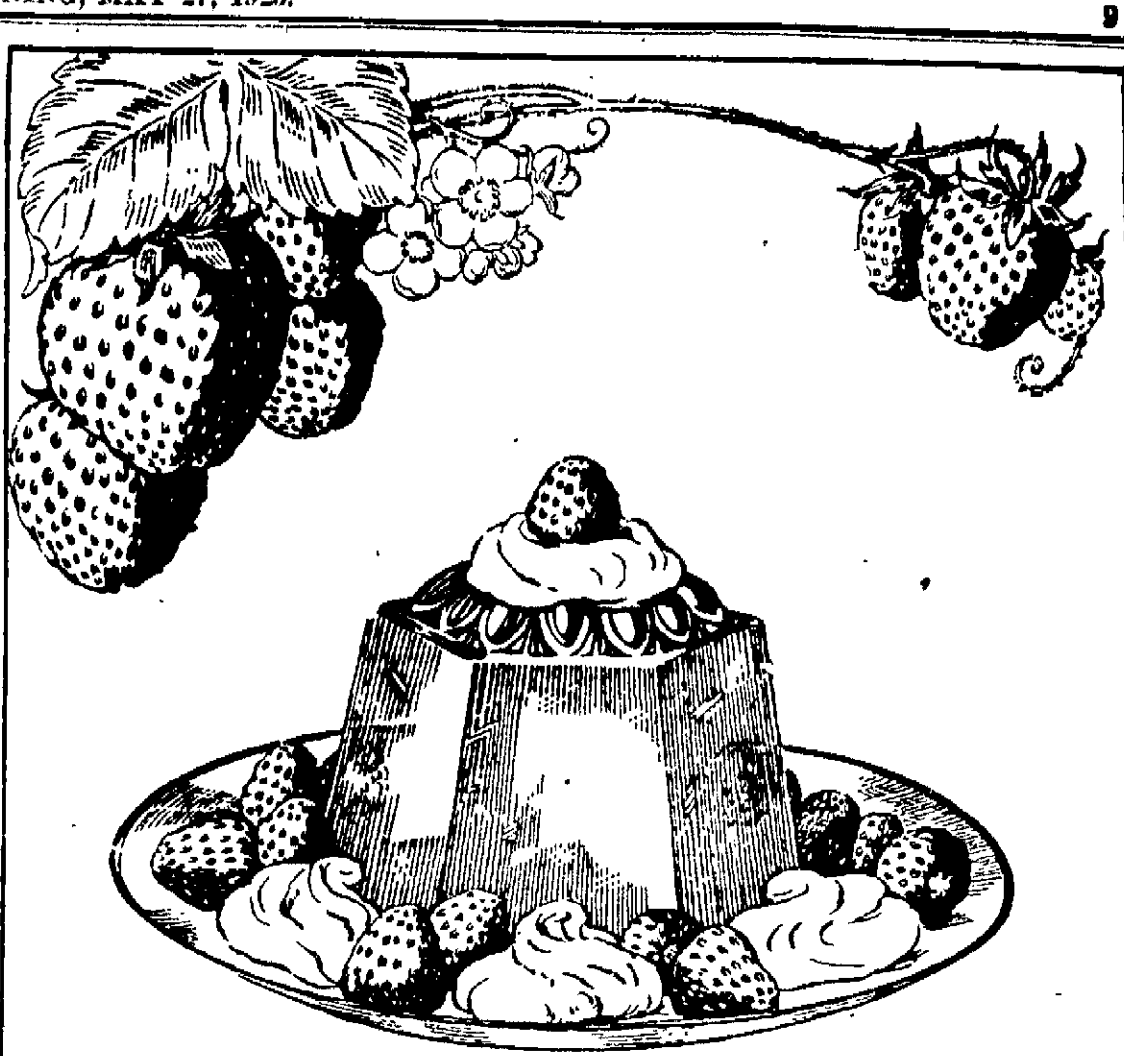

The wide polka dot tie is also a favored accessory as is the vogue for wearing the large handkerchief, folded cornerwise, twisted about the throat and knotted in front. With the jumper frock one elects a narrow scarf that knots loosely at the back and falls in bright trailing streamers.

The polka-dot scarf is gaining as summer approaches, for the printed rather than plain effects are the wanted ones. Some lovely reproductions of museum documents include Japanese designs in their original colorings, usually involving black, red, and a soft coffee tint. Plaid scarfs have never had the success here that they have enjoyed abroad, though ultra-smart women are given to this Gaelic touch.

Tells a Pathetic Story

It is a two-inch strip of cigar-box wood, with a half-inch hole rudely whittled through it at one end, and with soiled strings of cloth attached. It occupies a place in the collection of curious things in the office of Dr. Sydney Usher, the chaplain stationed by the Episcopal City mission at the City home on Welfare Island. The whittled hole, Doctor Usher explains, was once filled with a glass lens from a broken pair of spectacles, and the strings of cloth were used as ear loops. An old inmate of the institution, who had lost the use of one eye entirely and was almost blind in the other, had laboriously contrived a home-made eyeglass in order that he might not lose touch utterly with the news of the big city across the river. "It is often necessary," said Doctor Usher, "to help with little personal problems that the city cannot look after. The city provides good medical talent and excellent nursing care for our old folk, but the cost of eyeglasses has never been included in a municipal appropriation. Sometimes I am asked to play the part of a semi-professional oculist in the hope that the long days may be made a little less dreary for the poor people whose lives are ending here."—Washington Star.

Pampered

She was really a sweet-looking woman and she wanted something for Teddy. After she had gone through the toy stock and worn the clerk to a frazzle she admitted that she was stumped. "You see," said she, "Teddy is three years old and it is difficult for me to know just what he would like. When he was a puppy I could buy him balls and things like that, but he does not seem to care for them any more." And then the woman turned. "Why don't you buy him a nice silk nightgown, tied with a blue ribbon?" the clerk asked, sweetly. But the fond mother didn't get it at all. "Oh, he has all those things," she replied.—Argus (Seattle).

Low Fines Teachers' Pay

Eleven states have laws definitely prohibiting discrimination between men and women teachers in the matter of salary, and some other states have by administrative action recognized the principle of "equal pay for equal work," according to information recently compiled by the United States bureau of education, says School Life. Those states which have passed prohibitory laws are California, Colorado, Maryland, Nevada, New York (for New York city), Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

To Demonstrate Use of Gas

Farm Bureau Will Demonstrate Thursday How to Use Gas as a Destroyer of Woodchucks—All Farmers Invited to Attend.

"Woodchucks, or ground hogs, are found on nearly every New York farm, and they always have a 'coming' appetite for cabbage, clover, alfalfa, beans and grains," says M. D. Pirnie of the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca.

"In woodlots and hilly pastures they are usually kept in check by their natural enemies, dogs and foxes," Mr. Pirnie says, "but in the open fields, and around vegetable gardens, there is so much food and so few natural enemies that measures must be taken to guard crops and prevent the 'chucks' from digging holes in the meadows and cultivated fields."

Because woodchucks may travel considerable distances in the spring and fall, neighboring farmers must cooperate to clean up an area. Woodchucks like to dig in railroad embankments, and these should be watched as distributing centers for nearby farms. The college is glad to help farmers with eradication campaigns, and in many localities county agricultural agents are planning demonstrations of clean-up methods. Shooting, trapping and poisoning are unsatisfactory ways of handling the woodchuck problem, as they take too much time and trouble. A substance that gives off poison gas provides the best and most economical way to kill them, according to the college.

To demonstrate the advised methods for using gas as a destroyer the Farm Bureau has arranged two meetings to be held on Thursday, May 28. The first field demonstration will be at the home of George Dushner at Modena at 2:30, standard time. This community has a particularly heavy infestation of chucks and a large crowd of men will gather to learn the latest control measures. The second demonstration has been arranged for Frank Elliott's farm at Ohioville. Mr. Elliott has had serious injury to fruit trees by chucks in the past. He is especially anxious to eradicate the pest on this account. Mr. Elliott invites all who are interested to be present at his home at 1:30, standard time.

No farmer contemplating the use of this gas should consider doing so without previously posting himself on the danger involved, according to a statement given out by F. M. Wigles of the Farm Bureau, one chief purpose for the demonstration being to give instruction on this point. A few simple precautions must be observed.

K.G. & E. Whipped The Freeman

Printers Receive a Drubbing at the Hands of Gas Team, 9 to 1.—West Shore Plays the Universal Team Tonight.

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company team administered an overdue of the fluid to The Freeman Publishing Company Tuesday evening, resulting in the printers getting whipped 9 to 1.

Before the Gas team was put out in the first inning, it looked as if the department would be called. Taylor, pitching for the printers, was hit freely in the opening inning, and together with a couple of errors by the short stop netted the winners six runs.

Taylor allowed thirteen hits and had eight strikeouts. Eight errors also contributed in the defeat.

Van Aken was on the mound for the heat makers and allowed four hits and had eight strikeouts credited to him. The gas eaters showed some real form in the field as well as with the stick. Thirteen hits were obtained during the session.

A large crowd turned out to witness this game although they seemed to be weak with lung power as not much noise was made for either side.

After the first inning Taylor settled down to business and pitched good ball. Besides the six runs in the opener, the Gas team scored one in the second and two in the sixth. Hartman scored the lone run for the printers in the second.

This evening at the Athletic Field the West Shore Railroad Company will cross bats with the Universal Road Machinery Company. The game is scheduled to start at 6:20 o'clock, daylight saving time.

The road builders will likely bring Butler or Slicker to the front with Dermody behind the rubber.

The freight handlers probably will pitch Miles or Radel with McCann catching. A big crowd is expected to come and witness this game as both teams have a large number of "rooters."

Friday evening there will be no league game.

Tagging Major League Bases

Sometimes, the worm takes a vicious bite out of the box constrictor. Sometimes, the Braves beat the Giants. They did it twice yesterday, 5 to 2, 5 to 4, Graham and Cooney befuddling the champions.

The Senators made the cheese more potent by taking the Athletics in the premier of the big series, 11 to 2. Groves having nothing but a left hand. Coveleskie was as steady as an installment collector.

Cobb got his 1,000th extra base hit, breaking Wagner's old record, as Leonard lathanded the Tigers into an 8 to 1 decision over the White Sox. With our Mr. Ruth leading his presence to the occasion, Ehmke foiled the Yanks in the first game, 3 to 2, but they came back and beat the Red Sox in the second game, 6 to 1.

Donohue and May were badly mangled as the Cardinals crashed their way to 9 to 1 victory over the Reds.

The Browns got good pitching for a change and twice beat the Indians, 8 to 4, and 5 to 4. Van Gilder and Danforth being the obliging flingers.

Jones permitted only five hits but was extremely generous and the Pirates won from the Cubs, 7 to 2.

The Dodgers staked themselves to a batting spree at the expense of Carlson and Mitchell, and twice beat the Phillies, 10 to 4 and 3 to 1. Vance whiffed ten in the first game.

Walsh Looks for McTigue to Win

Berlenbach Has Never Beaten a Good Man. The Why, McTigue; Champion Will Stand Off Ruses for First Ten and Stab Challenger in Remaining Rounds.

(By Davis J. Walsh.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 27.—Broadway, wise in its patten and unwise in its gambling, has installed Paul Berlenbach a six to five favorite to beat Mike McTigue at the Milk Fund Show on Friday night and take over the light heavyweight championship of the world. The writer thinks Broadway has fouled one into the stands, in this instance.

If a hatpin is a more effective weapon than a clothes pin, then Mike McTigue should and will do a buck and wing to the decision at the end of 15 rounds. There doesn't seem to be the slightest reason in the world why a fistful of needles with the punch of a pile driver should get a clever man like McTigue in the time at their disposal. But the so-called wise money seems to think otherwise.

It has been fairly showered on Berlenbach's chances, and from present indications a lot of otherwise healthy young men will be eating breakfast on Saturday morning at Cheerful Charlie's, where the service is quick but queer.

The complex on Berlenbach apparently has been influenced by the fact that McTigue is defending his title to a referee's decision for the first time, and therefore, can't afford to stall his way to the final bell, as has been his wont. They think Mike will be forced into the open and probably he will.

They forget that McTigue can fight when forced to that unpleasant occupation. He says he is prepared to do nothing else on Friday night, and if there must be a choice between two determined, fighting men, the writer will string along with the one with superior speed and experience. Berlenbach has never beaten a good man; then, why McTigue?

Age, they say, will be a factor. If so, it will be on the side of McTigue, who has used it to learn much of ring ways and to keep his condition as a woman guards her complexion. McTigue, according to the best advice, will be absolutely right on Friday.

He probably will be so "right" that he will stand off Berlenbach's rushes for the first ten rounds and stab off Berlenbach's head for the last five.

Games Will Not Be Pink Tea Affairs

Baseball games in which the Millers participate this year will not be pink teas or reunions if Manager Mike Kelley has his way about it, says Harry McKenna in the Minneapolis Journal.

The manager-owner has let the word go out to the veteran Millers and the infant members of the club that fraternizing is under the ban when the season opens.

The Minneapolis boys believe that fraternizing spoils the game. He thinks that if players look upon their opponents as their enemies it will instill more "pep" in the players and give them the fighting spirit which wins ball games. The St. Paul club did not fraternizing when Mike plotted it and the same rule goes for the Millers this year.

One of the reasons for the high standing of the Chicago Cubs has been the hard-hitting of Catcher Leo Hartnett, more popularly known as "Gabby." His batting average is well over the .400 mark.

Memorial Day At Crosspatch

Crosspatch Community Center will celebrate Memorial Day by a big party Saturday evening, May 30. All the young people and many of their elders for miles around look forward to the "May party" as the Memorial Day celebration is known.

Mrs. Cross will come up from New York Friday evening and Miss Alice Dolan of New York will be her week end guest. Several parties from New York are expected. Walter Shulteis will play for the dance and bring one or more good performers to assist him. The phonograph has the latest blues just waiting to be heard. Mountain laurel will furnish the decorations and the house will be at its prettiest.

HARVARD ASTRONOMER DISCOVERS NEW STAR

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Cambridge, Mass., May 27.—Discovery of a new star, called Nova Pictoris, possibly visible in the southern parts of Florida and Texas, was announced today at the Harvard University observatory. The new visible star, discovered by astronomer Watson at Cape of Good Hope, is of the second magnitude in the constellation Pictor in the Southern Hemisphere. Only a dozen new stars visible to the naked eye have been discovered since 1848.

Photographs of Speed Boat. Photographs of the speed boat Baby Gar IV passing Kingston Point taken Tuesday morning by Ralph H. Annual Rush for Motor Licenses

While the applications for renewal of operators' licenses number over 100 a day, there will be the annual big rush during the next three weeks at the office of the motor vehicle license office, 237 Fair street, and it is doubtful if the demand for them can be filled by the end of June. The state motor bureau requested that all applications be filed by June 1, but up to Tuesday evening, for a period of eight days, only 350 operators' licenses had been issued at the local bureau. Tuesdays and Fridays are days for giving road tests to those who apply for new operators' licenses and to applicants for chauffeur licenses, and both sides of Fair street from Main to Maiden Lane are lined with parked cars from 9 a. m. to late in the afternoon on the days for taking road tests.

Will Asphalt on North Front St.

The board of public works Tuesday evening decided to lay an asphalt pavement on North Front street. The bricks on Broadway at the West Shore crossing will also be relaid, and the Broadway hill placed in shape. The trolley road will be notified of the contemplated street work and instructed to pave with the same material between its tracks and for a distance of two feet outside the tracks.

No Aid Asked for Pole Explorers

Norwegian Government Does Not Feel Appreciative of Their Safety—May Require Several Days to Fix Pole's Position.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Oslo, Norway, May 27.—Clearing weather and bright skies in the polar region gave scientists and members of the Amundsen Ellsworth party who are still at Spitzbergen renewed hope today that Amundsen and his five associates would return in safety from their North Pole flight. A greater length of time must elapse, it was indicated by government officials, before there is sufficient appreciation on the part of the Norwegian government to ask the United States or any other outside agency to send searchers after Amundsen. It will be, they said, at least several days more before the government will consider steps should be taken to determine what has happened to the Amundsen-Ellsworth flyers.

Great interest was displayed here in reports from the United States, quoting Bernard Prentice, brother-in-law of Ellsworth, as saying that Ellsworth had said the party might go on to Alaska if it succeeded in making a successful flight to the pole. Scientists pointed out that Amundsen and his party were well supplied with food and clothing, and would have every opportunity to make a safe journey back by foot in case of accident to the two airplanes.

Prentice, one of Amundsen's colleagues on the South Pole expedition, said he had not given up hope and would not even if several months passed without news. He recalled that three days were found necessary to fix the position of the South Pole. He believed, he said, it would take a similar length of time to fix the position of the North Pole, where conditions, he thinks, are more difficult.

The regular monthly meeting of the Port Ewen Library Association will be held at the library on Monday evening, June 1, at 7:30 o'clock. On and after Wednesday, June 3 the library will be open every Wednesday evening instead of Friday as at present.

DONNELLY APPOINTED MONROE COUNTY JUDGE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Albany, N. Y., May 27.—Governor Smith today appointed Philip H. Donnelly of Rochester, as county judge of Monroe county. The appointment was made because of a law passed by the last legislature providing for an additional judge for Monroe county. Judge Donnelly was graduated from Holy Cross College in 1910 and from the Albany Law School in 1912. He served overseas during the World War.

Would Seem to Have Odd Ideas of Beauty

Many volumes could be written on the strange customs of African tribes. Many are grotesque and a large number of them deal with personal appearance, says the Family Herald. Painful processes are resorted to in order to conform to accepted standards of beauty.

In one province women stretch their lips with wooden disks, because it is fashionable to have large lips. When at the age of five or six years a native girl is engaged to marry, a ceremony is held for the first lip stretching. Her future husband thrusts a straw through her lips, where it remains for three months, when a round piece of wood is put in its place. Every three months thereafter a larger disk is used until, when the girl has become a young woman, the wood is as large as an ordinary plate. After about seven years of this treatment the lips are so enlarged that the girl has difficulty in eating. Many tribes take only liquid food. Big lips, were so large that they can be pulled up over the eyes, are a mark of beauty.

Choral Club Spring Concert

Concert at Schubert Choral Club Spring Concert At High School Auditorium on June 5—Dance to Follow at Y. W. C. A.

The Schubert Choral Club will give their Spring Concert at the High School Auditorium, Friday evening, June 5th, at 8:10 o'clock. Miss Virginia Loskamp, director of the club, is arranging a most attractive program. The club has increased its membership since the February concert to seventy-five.

Harold Hansen, tenor, who is to be one of the soloists at the concert, recently returned from a successful tour of the west and south as singing tenor of the William Wade Lushaw Opera Company. Mr. Hansen has been enthusiastically received on this tour, and has been reengaged by Mr. Hinshaw for next season. He displays great versatility in his ability to interpret the concert as well as operatic music.

Miss Winifred Marshall, soprano, who has appeared with the American Singers Opera Company in leading roles for three seasons, will be the other soloist. Her recital programs are a great delight as she presents songs of different periods in costume. She may be remembered as having sung in Kingston in the fall of 1917 at the concert given for the benefit of the American Red Cross, which was under the direction of Miss Loskamp. Miss Marshall will present her numbers in costume at this concert in a group of children's songs and an operatic number. The Schubert Club is sure this will be an opportunity for the lovers of music to have a real treat of good music.

The musical program will be concluded by a dance at the Y. W. C. A. Hall.

New Mexico Indians Put Faith in Totems

The Zuni Indians of New Mexico are divided into a number of totem clans, one of which has the mountain lion for its totem. Each hunter who belongs to the priestly brotherhood carries an image of his totem out of some kind of stone.

If the piece of stone has, to begin with, some semblance to the form of a mountain lion, so much the better. It will then possess more magic when virtue is conferred upon it. The carving finished, they bind over the region of the heart a flint arrowhead, the heart, as the Zunis regard it, symbolizing the source of magic, the Detroit News points out.

The graven images are kept together in a basket, which is deposited in the "house of the deer medicine" and guarded by an official keeper.

At the festival of the New Year they are removed and arranged in front of an altar in a sacred chamber where the members of certain priestly orders assemble for a religious service. A priest presides and prayers are offered up.

Through this service the images receive a blessing and become charged with magic powers. Every hunter carries one with him to bring him good luck when he goes a-hunting.

Captured in Weird Maine Murder

Men's Mind Ever in Abject Grip of Fear

Primitive man began his existence on earth under conditions that caused his mind to be in a constant state of fear. He looked up at the sky with a sense of friendly aid to be sought there, but rather with a dread of some malign intent in the strange movements of the stars and in the periodic appearance of flaming comets.

Man lived for centuries with fear at his elbow, and the centuries of his advance in knowledge and culture have not enabled him to rid himself of the monster, says E. V. Rieu in "The Mind of Man." One result of this is that the language of almost every civilization abounds with taboos and superstitions, while even in our age many of the sayings of the great are colored with the emotions of fear.

Science has disposed of superstition, but it has come to understand only a very little more about the emotions of fear. It is only in his head and in his heart that man is sometimes a hero; in the pit of his stomach he is always a coward. Physiologically, the emotion of fear hits us very literally below the belt. It affects the great network of nerves situated under the diaphragm and known as the solar plexus. These nerves are closely associated with all the most vital organs and they control the very pulsation which the human mechanism works. Hence, the "shaking feeling" that we experience in moments of fear is due to an actual relaxation of the diaphragm itself and the consequent embarrassment of the heart and the pulmonary system.

Science has also demonstrated that the sense of fear, when it becomes intensified, tends to produce a well-marked condition known in medical terms as a phobia. There are agoraphobia or fear in crowds; monophobia, or fear of being in a confined space; anthropophobia, or fear of society; bathophobia, or fear of things falling; siderophobia, or fear of railway traveling.

Expert Archery

Philadelphia has played an important part in American archery. Its suburbs have produced two national champions, and the first archery association in the United States was the United Bowmen of Philadelphia, formed in 1828.

The annual contest drew as many as 2,000 spectators. There must have been something of the flavor of the days of Merle England about it, when the King's archers were his servants and knight and most valiant knight. Then a Welsh archer shot an arrow through an oak door four inches thick, with such force the shaft penetrated a hand's breadth on the other side. And the English archers then advanced one step forward and shot their arrows with such quickness it seemed as if it were.

Program Calls for Five Bureaus

Expansion Plan of Chamber of Commerce Will Include Bureaus for Particular Purposes Besides Membership Council.

The expansion program of the Chamber of Commerce of Kingston provides for five bureaus in addition to the Membership Council. They will be the civic, publicity, industrial and transportation, and commercial bureaus. Each of these bureaus will be fully explained in the forthcoming platform of activities of the enlarged chamber which is now in the hands of the printer.

At the conclusion of the present forward movement each member will be asked what particular line of community activity he is most interested in and his own expression of interest will enable the officers to assign him to the bureau in which he can render most effective service. The members will also be requested to make suggestions as to what they regard the most important things to be immediately undertaken for the good of the community as a whole, which will guide the directors in their plan of work.

Dr. M. J. Michael, who presided at the second group meeting of citizens yesterday, where he made an intensely interesting and instructive talk on "Why a Chamber of Commerce?" has accepted an invitation to be one of the speakers at the "Get Together Dinner" next Monday night, at the Millard building.

"Those who were privileged to hear Dr. Michael yesterday were enthusiastic in their praise of his grasp of the meaning of a Chamber of Commerce to the community and will without question be glad to learn that they shall have the opportunity to hear him again," said Louis S. Coe, secretary of the Chamber, this morning. Mr. Coe added that the dinner committee will have completed the dinner program and will be able to announce other speakers tomorrow. Over fifty additional acceptances to the big dinner were received yesterday, according to the committee, which leaves its success no longer in doubt, it was said.

Financial and Commercial

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, May 27.—The stock market displayed conspicuous strength in some departments today and in numerous cases recorded the highest prices for the year in some of the best known stocks. As a rule the new gains were well retained, though profit taking and short selling were in evidence.

The advance of Maxwell B to above par for the first time in its history was a feature of the motor group. This stock sold as low as 10 1/2 last year.

Professional traders were generally in control of the market movements of the bulk of specialty stocks. Prices were whipped up to new high levels in the early trading in a concentrated drive against the shorts, after which there was a general scramble to sell at the higher prices.

BELLWOOD LEADS THE FIELD WITH A 74

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Long Beach, Long Island, May 27.—Scores ran high among the early qualifiers for the National Open, on the difficult Lido course, today, and there were indications that comparatively few scores in the low seventies would be turned in.

Up to noon, with many of the stars not yet in, a 78 by Frank Bellwood of Garden City was leading the field. A gentle wind, which became steadier as the day progressed and turned strong to the southwest early this afternoon bodied ill for the late starters.

X-RAY FOR TREATING WHOOPING COUGH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Atlantic City, N. J., May 27.—X-ray is being used successfully in the treatment of whooping cough, infants can be cured of the disease by feeding them certain foods, treatment by sun rays or X-rays, and sealed fever can be prevented and cured by a new method, speakers told the American Medical Association's convention here today.

Dr. Jackson W. Smith, of Boston, said that X-ray can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of whooping cough.

Smith and Leaders Fail to Agree

State Park Controversy Still Active After Six Hour Conference—Leaders Will Not Assume Responsibility for Changes.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., May 27.—With Governor Smith and the Republican leaders as far apart as ever in the state park controversy, the capitol today came to the conclusion there would be no extra session of the Legislature this summer.

The governor, Republican and Democratic legislative leaders, and representatives of commission conferred for almost six hours yesterday without reaching an agreement.

"The Legislative leaders were unwilling to move an inch in the action they took on the park bill at the regular session," Governor Smith said today.

The Republican leaders issued a brief statement saying they did not feel they could take the responsibility of agreeing to any changes in the park bill.

Following the last session of the Legislature, the governor vetoed a Republican bill which would have appropriated $5,000,000 on the $15,000,000 park bond issue. He charged the Republicans with trying to play politics with the park program.

Cathedral Bomb Plotters Hanged

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Sofia, Bulgaria, May 27.—The three principal perpetrators of the Sveti Kral cathedral tragedy Zagorsky, Friedmann and Colokeef were hanged at 8 this morning.

The military court condemned to death the Frenchwoman, Madame Mallet Nicolov, the Swiss citizen Leges and the Agrarian Perchemleff who were charged with having sheltered the cathedral bombers who caused the death of approximately 160 persons in a plot to overthrow the Bulgarian government.

The wife of Leges and a son of Madame Nicolov were sentenced to life imprisonment.

The hangings were held publicly. A cordon of police and soldiers surrounded the gallows to keep back the crowds which were immense. It seemed as though the entire city had turned out to see the executions.

Volunteers were called for to act as hangman. No one volunteered. The authorities then summoned Jypsy Demir, who is the veteran hangman, to carry out the lethal task.

Gangsters Stage Daylight Raid

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, May 27.—Seven men were injured and a score of women treated for shock and hysteria early this afternoon when seven gangsters, using lead pipes, raided three non-alcohol dress making shops in Eighth avenue.

Police entering the building with drawn revolvers arrested five of the alleged assailants.

Police reserves were called out to regulate the huge crowds which further blocked the dense noon-day throngs in the heart of the city's cloak and suit district.

Huge Sea Serpent Shows Itself

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Boston, May 27.—A sea serpent, fabled monster of the deep, was observed by Captain Doyle and crew of the steam fishing trawler Foam, which arrived at the Boston fish pier today.

According to Doyle, the sea serpent was sighted off Georges Bank, 88 miles southeast from Boston lightship. All hands on the Foam described it as longer than the steamer itself (136 feet), larger around than a barrel and was the color of an eel.

Modernist Sees Break Certain

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Columbus, O., May 27.—A break in the Presbyterian Church is certain if a majority of the Presbyteries support action of the General Assembly in decreeing that complete faith in the virgin birth is essential to licensure as a minister of the church. Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin, New York modernist, declared here today.
